Chapter 4

This should have a moral. Drugs are bad. That, and don't accept strange drinks from your fellow delinquents.

You'll turn purple. Also, I want to make it clear that I'm NOT being lazy and cutting out the text then leaving it white. That's how the new is, and there's no reason for me to redraw what wasn't there in the first place. I think logic is on my side. With that said, look forward to the start of the first major arc next week!
